New Year's Eve

What Are you planning? To party-hearty or to thank God for His unexpected Blessings? What a mighty God we serve!

Mid-December 1948, I (Paul) was invited by a girl I knew to celebrate New Year's Eve with her and her friends. The plan was for all of us, she with me and her girl-friends with their dates, to enjoy a lavish meal at a local tavern. Afterward, we would all proceed to her girl-friend's house to enjoy a night of celebrating the New Year in bed with our dates! She needed an immediate answer; I said I'd think about it and would let her know.

I was living at a fraternity house on North 8th street in Terre Haute. All residents, except me and another Rose Polytechnic student whom I didn't even know, were visiting with family elsewhere.

What a deal for this lonesome single guy who would otherwise be alone at the frat house while the world partied on. I didn't have to work that night, either. This took place right after I had started praying to God to give me a girl-friend who was a teen age virgin, a Christian with Christian parents, beautiful, petite so I would be able to carry her, and one who would become my wife.

I realized the planned New Year's Eve celebration was inconsistent with my prayer. I asked God to give me a way out of this dilemma.

About noon December 31st, the other Rose student asked me what I was doing to celebrate the night. He had always wanted to spend that night in Chicago. I told him my dilemma and he suggested that I should avoid the party because the girl was probably planning to tell her priest about the episode; and he would probably demand I marry her. I did not want to marry that girl. I called her and cancelled.

My new friend and I bought train tickets to Chicago and welcomed the New Year, 1949, there. Had I pursued the other choice I would never have met Eleanor.

God does miracles for those who trust Him.

April 1, 1949 I was invited on a blind date to join in the Rose Polytechnic fun of taking "Rosie, the elephant," to downtown Terre Haute. I was to meet a blind date about 7:30pm. Around 6 or 7pm, that blind date cancelled. The arranger quickly called Eleanor and she accepted. Soon as I saw her, I silently thanked God because I knew He had answered my prayer! What a Mighty God we serve! Praise Him! Praise Him!

ONCE MORE What are you planning? To party-hearty or to thank God for His unexpected Blessings?

Whatever you choose to do this New Year's Eve (or any day for that matter) will determine what happens in your life from now on.

That's why it is extremely important that each one of us choose God today; should we choose to refuse to come to God today when He is reaching out to each one of us, how in the world can we expect Him to be at our side when we really need Him?

Your future life actually depends upon your relationship with our Living God today.

What a mighty God we serve!
